

BALACLAVA

Disposable balaclavas provide full head and neck coverage to help prevent contamination from hair and skin particles. They are ideal for healthcare, food production, cleanrooms, and industrial environments where hygiene is essential.

DTS Protect disposable balaclavas offer breathable, lightweight protection and a secure fit, making them suitable for use with respiratory protective equipment and other PPE.

Healthcare and Medical Settings:

Used in hospitals, clinics, and laboratories to maintain hygiene and prevent contamination. Disposable balaclavas help contain hair and skin particles, reducing the risk of cross-infection in sterile environments.

Industrial & Protective Work:

Worn under helmets or protective equipment in construction, painting, and maintenance work. They provide a hygienic barrier against dust, dirt, and light splashes while ensuring comfort during extended use.

Cleanrooms & manufacturers:

Common in pharmaceutical, electronics, and food production facilities. They minimize particle shedding from workers, helping maintain strict cleanliness standards and protecting sensitive products.
